WELCOME

We are all here to make a difference... educators, law enforcement, businesses, government, and parents!

Welcome to our 7th Annual Safe Schools Conference! We are all here to listen, learn, and share positive and successful programs and experiences with each other regarding perhaps the most critical student element of our time... the creation of a safe and nurturing environment for our students! We have outstanding breakout sessions that will enable our community to collaborate to provide a safe and positive school environment for our students. We are all here for a common focus: to make our schools safe... for our children's sake. Relax, learn, and enjoy the next three days!

Thank you...
thank you...
for what you do for our children!

California Department of Education: Bringing School and Community Safety Plans to Life

California schools are required by law to develop a comprehensive school safety plan through school and community partnerships, and inter-agency collaboration. Are you and your community prepared? Tom Torlakson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, opens this dynamic session featuring national and state experts who share essential tools and information for effective planning and implementation of school safety plans. Exemplary practices are highlighted and perspectives shared by critical stakeholders. Bernie James, J.D., national school safety law expert, provides legal updates on the challenges to implementing policies designed to create and maintain a safe campus environment. Attendees are empowered with current data, effective strategies, and expanded networks.

Presenters – Tom Torlakson – California State Superintendent of Public Instruction
Bernie James, J.D. – Pepperdine University School of Law
Nancy Kelly, M.Ed. – Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Agency
Lynne Olson – California Governor's Office of Emergency Services
Shereen Walter – California Parent Teachers Association
Ken Fitzgerald – Stanislaus County Office of Education
James Ream – Sergeant, Los Angeles School Police Department
Mae Torlakson – Ambrose Recreation and Park District

After the Bell: Are You Prepared?

An often overlooked aspect of safe schools and school emergency preparedness is “after the bell” activities in which more than 11 million high school students participate each year. Emergencies will happen at after-school practices and events. Creating a Team and Event-Specific Emergency Action Plan for the wide variety of after school activities is easy and does not take much time, but it does require leadership that anticipates and plans for medical emergencies and emergencies that require law enforcement. Seconds do matter and being prepared will save lives. This session will give participants the nationally acclaimed “Anyone Can Save A Life” that is designed to give a coordinated response for emergencies that occur “after the bell.”

Presenter – Roger Blake – Executive Director, California Interscholastic Federation
Brian Seymour – Senior Director, California Interscholastic Federation
Erin Davenport – Director, California Interscholastic Federation

Room: Catalina A3

A New Direction for Student Support: Braiding Initiatives

Restorative Practices, PBIS, Social and Emotional Wellness, Social Skills, Mindfulness, Cultural Responsiveness...how do all of these initiatives fit together within a comprehensive tiered system of support? Dr. Jon Eyler has worked with hundreds of schools, districts, and county offices of education throughout California to address this question. This session will unpack the complexities of establishing a truly coordinated system of support for students AND adults. Participants will learn about the organizational and implementation strategies used to connect these initiatives and build an effective system of support that reflects both fiscal responsibility and long term sustainability.

Presenter – Dr. Jon Eyler – CEO Collaborative Learning Solutions
Dr. Gail Angus – Executive Director Collaborative Learning Solutions

Room: Catalina A4Adolescent Subcultures and Current Drug Trends

This pre-conference presentation discusses the many at-risk social groups and the most updated information on emerging drug trends found amongst the adolescent population. The presentation includes a “road show” with over 200 illegal items confiscated from juveniles on school grounds that are displayed for a “hands-on” experience.

Presenter – Sergeant Jared Dahl – Orange County Sheriffs Department

Deputy Carlos Sanchez – Orange County Sheriffs Department

Room: Catalina CI & CIILessons Learned from the San Bernardino Shooting

The community of San Bernardino was shocked in December 2015 by a mass shooting. Numerous city, county, state and federal agencies responded to the scene, while many more were galvanized into action to ensure the safety and security of the community both on that day and in the weeks and months to come. This session will feature a presentation by Chief Joseph Paulino of the San Bernardino City Unified School District Police Department. He will not only provide insights into the incident itself, but will discuss his department’s role as well as the steps taken since to better prepare for future events. The presentation will be followed by a panel discussion that will bring together representatives from the San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools and the San Bernardino County Probation Department, as well as the San Bernardino Sheriff’s Department and the San Bernardino City Police Department. The panel members will each provide their agencies’ perspectives on the shooting—providing a look at the incident from various angles—and discuss their agencies’ responses during and in the immediate aftermath. Attendees will gain exposure to the lessons learned by these various agencies and the practices and procedures that have been established in preparation for future events. Best practices will be imparted that can be implemented by attendees in their school communities, and ample time will be provided at the end of the session for attendees to ask questions of the distinguished panel members.

Moderator: Brianna García – Director, Management Consulting Services, School Services of California, Inc.

Presenters – Chief Joseph Paulino – San Bernardino City Unified School District Police Department

Earl Smith – Program Manager, San Bernardino County Superintendent of Schools, Child Welfare & Attendance

Technology, Data, and Protecting Students from Bullying in Schools: How to Predict, Prevent, and Support

Schools have a responsibility to protect students from the physical and psychological effects of bullying. However, the complex nature of bullying demands interventions that are more multifaceted than a simple “anti-bullying” sign posted in the hallways or assigning bullies to an alternative school. The solution to this problem requires dynamic solutions generated through innovative, real-time decision-making. This session will show participants how to examine the different roles associated with the act of bullying and details how schools can more effectively prevent and address bullying in a public school setting.

Presenters – Eric Landers, Ph.D - Georgia Southern University

Room: Catalina A2

Establishing the Foundation for an Effective Child Abuse Prevention Program

Child Abuse Prevention goes above and beyond Mandated Reporter responsibilities. This session will focus on abuse prevention, recognizing abuse behaviors and establish acceptable boundaries to keep kids safe.

Presenters – Ron Martin – Keenan & Associates, JPA Manager-Northern California Regional Liability Excess Fund
Diane Cranelly – President and CEO of TAALK

Room: Catalina A3

Understanding Youth At-Risk

This session will examine current research on risk factors that contribute to violence, gangs, drug use and future incarceration. To impact current juvenile crime, educators, law enforcement, probation, mental health staff and youth service workers must have a clear understanding of factors that contribute to anti-social behaviors. This session will not only provide for a clinical examination of risk factors, but the presenter will bring the research to life through examples and real life experiences. Program implications will be addressed through an examination of current efforts such as risk reduction, asset-based approaches, youth development and developmental trajectory intervention.

Presenter – Wayne Sakamoto – Executive Director, CSROA

Room: Catalina C1

Kelly Elementary: First Hand Account of Our School Shooting

How one community moved from fear to resilience. On October 8, 2010, Kelly Elementary School experienced an active shooter on its K-5 campus. Tressie Armstrong, the principal of the school, and Barbara Swearingen, administrative assistant, will share what happened, lessons learned, practical steps for emergency training: Prevent, Prepare, Respond, Recover, and perhaps most importantly, how to build resilient communities and move from tragedy to triumph in any critical situation.

Presenters – Tressie Armstrong – Principal, Kelly Elementary School
Barbara Swearingen – Administrative Assistant, Kelly Elementary School

Room: Catalina C2

Protecting Students and Staff: The Legal Implications of Permitting Firearms on Campus

Firearm-related violence on school grounds is a concern across the country. More than 30 states have considered or passed legislation addressing possession of firearms on school grounds. Where it is permitted, school officials are charged with making informed decisions, such as whether to permit it all and, if so, who is authorized and what requirements to impose. The issue has significant policy, pedagogical and legal implications. This presentation outlines the legal implications, including the scope of schools’ obligation to provide a safe environment for students and staff, potential individual and school liability, and risk management. It also offers a framework for evaluating these important decisions.

Presenter – Darren Kameya – Attorney, Lozano Smith Law Firm

Room: Catalina C3

Supplementing Physical Security Utilizing Electronic Technologies

How to utilize technology to supplement physical security at school sites. Areas covered will be: Electronic Access Control, Video Cameras and Lobby Management.

Presenter – Chris Wynn – Director of Security

Little Rock Nine

Santa Rosa Ballroom

2nd GENERAL SESSION

Terrence James Roberts was one of the Little Rock Nine, a group of African-American students who, in 1957, were the first black students ever to attend classes at Little Rock Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas. In 1999, he and the other people of the Little Rock Nine were awarded the Congressional Gold Medal by President Bill Clinton.

On September 4, 1957, Roberts and eight other African-American students made an unsuccessful attempt to enter Little Rock Central High School with the presence of the National Guard and an angry mob of over 400 surrounding the school.

The National Guard was removed with the protection of the students left to the local police. On September 23, 1957, a mob of about 1000 people surrounded the school as the students attempted to enter. The following day, President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent U.S. Army troops to accompany the students to school for protection. The troops were stationed at the school for the entirety of the school year.

Terrence is an acclaimed speaker with a riveting story and lesson for all of us in the education and law enforcement community!

Profiling the “Human” in Human Trafficking: Facts, Fears, and Hopes

Human trafficking has become a hot topic as of late, and it's for good reason. Within the country and especially within Southern California, human trafficking is very prevalent. Whether it's teachers, staff, clinicians, or parents; nearly anyone who comes into contact with children should have the tools to recognize what it looks like when one is being trafficked and what to do once identification has occurred. We will discuss what the reality of trafficking looks like versus what is shown in the movies. Also, what “fear” means to victims as well as facing our own fears in dealing with these situations. We will attempt to personalize the process by showing you the “faces” of the victims and the human toll of the abuse. Finally we will talk about instilling “hope” and the long term nature of the healing process for victims and survivors.

Presenter – Kristen Dolan – Anti-trafficking Director, Operation SafeHouse

It Only Takes a Moment™ to Listen, Be Heard, and Get Help

Award-winning filmmaker, author and speaker, Erahm Christopher, hosts a thought-provoking session focused on how active listening can help save money and lives. Participants of this session will learn how neglecting key moments to connect with youth can metastasize into serious mental health issues and school safety risks. Mr. Christopher will be joined by prominent psychiatrist and author Dr. Mark Goulston and Mackenzie Drazan, founder of the mental health non-profit, TEAM. Together the panel will provide concrete strategies on how to train your staff to be proactive listeners that help prevent bullying, self-harm and suicide.

Presenter – Erahm Christopher – Filmmaker
Dr. Mark Goulston – Psychiatrist
Mackenzie Drazan – Founder T.E.A.M.

Safe Schools: Utilizing Youth Development Strategies to Address Racism, Gangs, Violence, and Bullying

One of the many goals of the presentation is for participants to develop a strong understanding of the impact group identity has on individual adolescent behavior, particularly with racism, gangs, violence, and bullying. Educators must understand the importance of developing programs that foster relationships among youth and developing a sense of belonging for youth to a group. Our youth are simply growing up in a violent culture that invests itself in a code of silence. As educators we must counter this and develop a culture of communication, where students feel connected to one another and responsible for the outcomes of their campus culture.

Presenter – John Vandenburg – PLUS Program, Founder

Room: Catalina C1

Are You Ready to Respond to the Active Shooter When it Comes to Your Campus?

Schools in the United States are entrusted to provide a safe and healthy learning environment for approximately 55 million elementary and secondary students in public and nonpublic schools. There is also an expectation that school officials will keep their children safe from all threats including active shooters. This powerful workshop, presented by a former police officer with over 30 years of experience, will help you formulate plans and expose you to effective strategies to help keep you and your students safe WHEN an active shooter comes to your school.

Presenter – Josef Levy – Commander Long Beach Police Department (retired)

Room: Catalina C2

A Tier II Model for Success: Alternative Solutions for Students with Challenging Behavior

Cultivating authentic relationships, positive behavioral supports, cognitive-based problem solving strategies, goal setting, and Social Emotional Learning (SEL)...how do these elements transform traditional approaches to educating youth with challenging behavior? Learn how the Collaborative Learning Program model, is realizing great successes in adolescents with a history of challenging behaviors. In this session participants will learn how five high leverage practices are implemented in schools to establish a solid Tier II solution for students.

Presenters – Dr. Jon Eyler, CEO – Collaborative Learning Solutions
Ken McCarthy – Director of Programs, Collaborative Learning Solutions

Room: Catalina C3

The Difficult Issue of School Bullying from a Legal Perspective

Our society, as reflected in our courts and in the Department of Education, expects schools to provide even more protection for our children from bullying. This session will examine the legal definitions of bullying, what courts and the Department of Education say about proper responses, and the potential liabilities when school districts do not do enough.

Stamping Out Adult Toxic Behavior to Transform School Culture

Unfortunately, just a small dose of toxic behavior in a school can be detrimental to the entire school culture. Jeff Jones has led school culture transformations in the trenches as a school principal and has consulted with schools across the country helping them revamp and revitalize their teaching and learning environments. Ultimately, Jeff shows schools how to leverage the power of shared leadership to create a tidal wave of positive action and lasting transformation. It is time to empower the committed majority! Maybe you don't have a toxic school culture but would just like to move your school from "Good to Great." You don't have to be sick to get better. You just need a plan and a committed group of individuals to create the spark. Jeff is a highly sought after speaker and consultant. His presentations and keynote speeches have been praised for being "inspiring and truly entertaining" as he shares tons of creative strategies and even sings his original music! In the words of one audience member, "I have waited 27 years to hear that message. Thank you!"

The workshop provides a legal update on the challenges to implementing policies designed to create and maintain a safe campus environment. Topics include the authority of educators, student rights and inter-agency collaboration. Attendees will be asked to participate in discussions on current legislative reform, federal and state, to provide a context for empowering more effective safe schools policy making.

Presenters – Dr. Bernie James – Pepperdine University School of Law

Fhanysha Clark – Pepperdine University School of Law

Room: Catalina C3Why and How to Effectively Implement Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports

This overview presentation on PBIS will help inform school administrators and other staff/faculty members on the benefits and process for implementation. We will discuss how the PBIS framework offers an effective model for building up a multi-tiered system of support to provide students with a full scope of services that build school climate while fostering student success and wellness. The presentation will cover the research on PBIS and how to achieve the desired outcomes by meeting the fidelity benchmarks. Participants will also learn about the three-year training and planning process used by school site teams to implement PBIS and ensure sustainability.

Presenters – Ken Fitzgerald – Regional Health and Safety Planning Coordinator, Stanislaus County Office of Education

Room: Avalon 2Building Strong Partnership Between Tribes and Schools

In this session, participants will learn strategies on how to form strong partnerships between Tribes and School Districts. The Tribal Administrator and Education Coordinator from the La Jolla Band of Luiseño Indians, along with the Superintendent of Schools for the Valley Center Pauma Unified School District in San Diego County will share insight into the steps they took to better serve tribal youth in their community and schools. From Title VII funding to Tribal Youth Programming, the presenters will highlight the process they took to strengthen their relations.

Presenters – Mary Gorsuch – Superintendent, Pauma Valley USD

James Trujillo – Tribal Administrator, La Jolla Indian Reservation

Katrina Keyoite – Education Administrator, La Jolla Indian Reservation

Room: Avalon 3Coordinating Emergency Response Between Schools and Cities

This workshop will look at the “All-Hazards” approach to emergency management, starting with a strong core to identify the authority for the plan, the objective of your plan, the stakeholders involved, the locations and routes affected, the levels of response, and the functional structure of the district when you shift from “Education” to “Emergency.” This workshop will also cover best practices for coordinating emergency response between school districts and city responders. Focus will be given to both the common, well known risks as well as the newer emerging risk like terrorism, shootings, and swatting.

Presenter – Bill Clayton – Keenan & Associates, Loss Control Director

1:45 – 3:00 P.M. THURSDAY, JULY 21

Room: Catalina A1Connecting The Dots

The presentation will examine prior acts of targeted violence with a focus on lessons learned. In this examination, those lessons learned will demonstrate the necessity for today's schools, law enforcement, and mental health professionals to develop a network that facilitates information sharing. The discussion will also highlight recent findings of active shooter incidents.

Presenter – Jeff Cugno – FBI Special Agent

Room: Catalina A2School Climate Change: Harnessing the Power of Conflict

Bullying is portrayed as an epidemic in schools. The issue, however, is identifying how many of these incidents constitute actually bullying vs. simply conflict or poor social skills. At the end of this session, participants will develop a school-wide plan for identifying conflict, identifying instances of bullying, and identifying higher order social emotional skills to prevent “conflict” from becoming bullying. Emphasis is placed on the prediction and prevention of conflict rather than the traditional reaction approach to bullying.

Presenter – Eric Landers, Ph.D – Georgia Southern University

Room: Catalina A3Cultivating a Climate of Kindness, Empathy, and Compassion

The research is in and it confirms that practicing kindness, empathy, and compassion boosts physical health, promotes emotional wellness, and creates the foundation for the ability to communicate effectively, collaborate together in teamwork, and do critical thinking in groups. These skills cause a shift in perspective that can decrease bullying and negative behavior, strengthen school climate safety and culture, and enhance student and staff engagement and morale. These foundational skills can also build resiliency and lead students to success in school, college, career, and life. Are you ready to strengthen the social emotional wellness of your staff and students? Ready to reignite staff's passion for reaching and teaching youth, and give them tools to increase their ability to make a positive impact? This fun, informational, inspirational and interactive workshop highlights the research and focuses on specific actions which can be implemented at your site to intentionally teach and build a school culture of kindness, empathy, compassion, resiliency, and service learning.

Presenters – Joelle Hood – Senior Consultant, Collaborative Learning Solutions

Room: Catalina C1Isla Vista Mobile Active Shooter: Tragedy in Isla Vista, CA May 23, 2014

This multimedia presentation will cover critical incident emergency response and command, including unified command with allied stakeholders, as well as an overview of the collaborative policing partnership model. Discussions will include effective management of critical incidents and large scale planned and unplanned events.

Included in this presentation will be an overview of several major incidents, including the 2014 Isla Vista active shooter incident, which left six people dead, and fourteen others injured, as well as the 2014 “Deltopia Riot”, an unsanctioned daytime street party that turned into a large scale civil disturbance, drawing on hundreds of law enforcement resources from three separate counties.

UC Santa Barbara Police Sgt. Ryan Smith and Sgt. Matthew Bly will provide unique insight and experience, both having been directly involved with the planning, response, and management of several large scale events.”

Cyber Safety & Social Media Threats

The workshop first explains the current technology and applications teens are using to access the Internet and social media networks. Secondly, cyber bullying and other online threats are defined with current trends and real world examples that Deputy Cranford has investigated in schools. Lastly, participants will be given tools and an action plan that they can immediately begin using to help keep their children safe online. Some of the topics discussed include:

- Current bullying trends;
- Risks associated with popular social media sites;
- Sexting and online predators;
- Identifying online predatory behavior;
- How to monitor online activity; and
- Parenting strategies and techniques to keep children safe online.

Presenter – Clayton Cranford – Deputy Sheriff, Orange County Sheriff’s Department

Room: Avalon 2

Social Change: Join Us to “Be Brave, Smile, and Be the Change!”

Experience how one Southern California community utilized youth to reduce a range of public health issues. This presentation will discuss current alcohol and drug trends that will enlighten and educate the audience, then demonstrate our proven programs and services on how to address, reduce and/or eliminate these trends and issues.

This presentation will provide “tool-kits” that will allow participants to begin their prevention efforts immediately on their return from the conference. No two-inch binders full of research, but rather, hands-on resources, material and strategies (tips from the trenches) that have been proven effective in local communities throughout Southern California and other parts of the country.

Presenter – Phil Falcetti – CEO, National Council on Alcohol & Drug Dependency, Orange County

Room: Avalon 3

Reaching Your Goals to Reduce Chronic Absenteeism

This workshop will enable school personnel in collaboration with their communities to develop and achieve goals for reducing chronic absenteeism rates. The strategy for achieving measurable reductions in chronic absenteeism rates will be multi-tiered. Tier 1 is about prevention of attendance problems by recognizing and promoting improved attendance of schools, classes, and individual students. Tier 2 involves early intervention strategies for personalized early outreach to students and families at the first sign of trouble. Tier 3 strategies are for the persistent cases that require case management and referral to a school attendance review board (SARB).

Secure Your Campus in Seconds With One Touch and Reduce Emergency Response by 50%

Since 1992, the United States has endured more than 400 school shootings. This workshop will highlight how to keep students and staff safe with the latest techniques and strategies, including run, hide, fight as well as live simulation of an active shooter incident. The workshop will also highlight proven technological advancements in school safety that have already saved student lives by empowering students and staff with mobile emergency 2-way communication systems that allow users to communicate emergency information immediately as well as locate the emergency.

Presenters – Vic Merjanian, Esq. – CEO & Founder of Titan HST
Vladimir Anderson – Master Officer & School Resource Officer
Tim Tolzda – Educator

Room: Catalina A2

Parent Power

The best way to positively influence a youth's behavior is by positively impacting the youth's home and family dynamics. Therefore, this workshop focuses on educating parents how to develop positive and healthy relationships with their children, how to deter their children from gangs, drugs, and delinquency; and the best strategies to deal with rebellious and defiant children.

Presenters – Evelyn Essenwanger – Riverside County Deputy District Attorney

Room: Catalina A3

Connect, Accept, Respond, Empower: How to Support LGBTQ Youth

This interactive workshop will provide an overview of suicide among lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and questioning (LGBTQ) youth and the different environmental stressors that contribute to their heightened risk for suicide. The first half of the workshop will focus on what research states regarding reducing the risk of suicide and promoting resiliency. After reviewing current research, there will be an emphasis on best practices and practical steps that service providers, educators, and others can take to promote a positive environment for all youth.

Presenters – Danielle Orner – Senior Education Manager, The Trevor Project

Room: Catalina C1

Engaging Students as Decision Makers in the PBIS and School Safety Planning Process at the Universal Intervention Level

Research shows when addressing universal interventions, students with influence can play a critical role in the prevention of negative social behaviors on campus. In this session, Participants will learn how to utilize a diverse cross section of student leaders to gather data and facilitate a series of activities that create communication, connections, care and community among a student body. Utilizing best practice strategies, student leaders serve as the liaison between the student body and the adults on a campus. Schools implementing PBIS and Multi-Tiered Systems of Support have found Peer Leader Programs to be a perfect fit for student involvement at a Tier 1 intervention level.

Presenters – John Vandenburg – PLUS Program, Founder

Room: Catalina C2

Solutions to Bullying

This session will cover critical issues facing schools when dealing with bullying, cyberbullying and harassment. Participants will be presented with an overview of how these behaviors can impact the social environment of the school, student attendance and academic performance. Research-based prevention and intervention approaches will be presented in a “nuts and bolts” format. Attendees will be able to follow and implement five planning steps to improve school climate, attendance and academic achievement by reducing bullying, cyberbullying, harassment and hate motivated behaviors.

Presenters – Wayne Sakamoto – Executive Director, CSROA

Room: Catalina C3

Promoting Mental Health Through a Trauma Informed Lens and Toward Resilience Oriented Outcomes

Mental health can have profound effects on students’ academic success, but it is not always well understood. This session will include the basic theory and research in order to provide a framework for trauma-informed practices. It will examine what these practices look like across different systems. Participants will receive guidance on how organizational practices can support healing and resilience.

Presenters – Nancy Kelly, MS Ed – Public Health Advisor Department of Health and Human Services, Substance Abuse Mental Health Services Administration

Room: Avalon 2

Creating the 3G’s: How to Guide, Guard, and Govern Our Youth

Experience how Orange County created a town hall approach to develop parent/student education forums regarding “How to Guide, Guard, and Govern Our Youth.” Utilizing the triage approach of School, Family, and Community, this presentation will discuss the “nuts and bolts” of coordinating, recruiting, managing, and implementing parent/student campus forums. The presenters will provide an A-Z overview of how to develop successful parent education services, while simultaneously educating students on current marijuana, underage drinking, and opioid prescription drug trends.

Presenters – Phil Falcetti – CEO, National Council on Alcohol & Drug Dependency
Sgt. Mike Pixomatis – Orange County Sheriff’s Department

Room: Avalon 3

Assessing and Building Capacity for PBIS/MTSS Implementation

It is critical for today’s educational leaders launching programs and innovative practices supporting school climate and student safety that there be a systemic organized way for meeting the key features necessary for successful implementation. With over 20 years of research, the District Capacity Assessment (DCA) provides district leadership teams an evidence based action assessment designed to help precisely align resources to intended outcomes. This presentation will give participants tools and strategies for action planning and implementation to achieve the intended outcomes. The University of North Carolina’s, National Implementation Research Network and the University of Oregon developed this tool through identification of key features of effective implementation. The DCA, key features, tools for coordinating multiple initiatives, selection of practices, and district implementation team development will all be demonstrated showing participants effective tools and strategies for implementation.

3rd GENERAL SESSION

Human trafficking is modern slavery. It involves exploiting a person through force, fraud, or coercion for the purpose of forced labor, commercial sex, or both. Victims of human trafficking include men, women, boys, girls who are lured by the promise of a better life in the U.S.

Many child victims of human trafficking are students right here in our schools in Orange County and all of California. Schools and communities need to know what to look for, what to do if a victim has been identified, and how to be involved with victim maintenance.

Investigator Hernandez is a Human Trafficking expert and teaches investigative techniques statewide. She has been with the Orange County Sheriff's Department for 15 years. Her assignments have included custody operations, Immigration and Customs Enforcement, and Field Operations. During the course of her career with the Sheriff's Department, she has worked in an undercover capacity as a prostitute on multiple occasions, and has been recruited as a fictitious minor female by both male and female pimps through social media.

Come and listen to her riveting presentation!

Strong Partnership Between Law Enforcement and Student Leadership Can Promote a Safe School Campus

Digital communication and social media are a permanent fixture and influence on our students' world. This presentation will explore opportunities for partnerships between school resource officers, law enforcement agents and educators to teach students responsible use of social media and digital communication. Using case studies, the presenter will show how the school's activities program can be the vehicle used to present this important content to students; creating a culture shift that promotes both a positive and safer campus and climate. This user friendly presentation shows an effective approach in teaching responsible social media use to students and includes a student produced PSA showing the power of "Pausing Before You Post."

School Safety: Lessons Learned from VVUHS District Campus Security Officers and Assistants

It is difficult for teaching and learning to occur based on the common core state standards when students, staff, and administrators do not feel safe. While most schools have existing safety programs, these programs often need conscientious, creative application to improve their effectiveness. When the key stakeholders in the district decide to make this a priority using data, the foundation was established to access assumptions and separate facts from fiction. Security staff have an eagle eye view of the reality and needs associated with maintaining school safety that is often overlooked in the intervention scheme. Their input can strengthen the school safety plan and identify principles and practices that promote safer campuses. Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats (SWOT) analysis was completed for each location with commendations and recommendations for improvement. This has resulted in a cleared picture of our practices and protocols to ensure safer campuses for students, staff, parents, and the community. Although every gap has not been filled, we are closer to our ultimate goal of maintaining safe and secure campuses for our number one customers-students!

Strategies to Significantly Reduce Suspensions and Expulsions

In this session, participants will learn strategies implemented in the Lake Elsinore Unified School District that helped lead to significant decreases in the number of students suspended and expelled from school each year for the last six years.

Presenters – Dr. Steve Behar – Director Educational Services, Lake Elsinore Unified School District

Room: Catalina C3Crisis Response: Protection and Survival During Crises in Education Settings

This workshop provides basic definitions and recommendations on what school staff can do to prepare for an Active Shooter, suspicious devices, and other major incidents in school settings. Directions on typical lock down procedures and actions that should not be allowed such as giving students a restroom pass or teachers walking the halls between classes are discussed. What can you expect as law enforcement and other first responders arrive at the scene? What and how should you communicate with law enforcement? A time line and description of what to expect in the aftermath is discussed.

Presenter - Sergeant Matthew D. Scott

Room: Avalon 2Restorative Justice Liability: A Message from the Courts on Discipline Reform

Conflicts are arising between restorative justice outcomes and existing laws on mandatory crime reporting, child abuse reporting, obstruction of justice, prohibitions on discrimination, and victims' rights. The workshop is a variation on two themes:

- State and federal laws that herald the growing popularity of restorative justice.
- Judicial proceedings imposing sanctions on educators.
